Each section tests different skills, from factual recall to deep analysis and synthesis of historical evidence.

Multiple-Choice Questions (MCQs)

The MCQ section typically consists of 55 questions covering a broad range of historical periods and themes. Typically, three short-answer questions are included in the exam.

Document-Based Question (DBQ)

The DBQ challenges students to develop an argument supported by analysis of provided historical documents. This section evaluates skills in sourcing, corroboration, and contextualization. Students must write a coherent essay using the documents and their own knowledge to address a historical question.
